Credential Evaluation – Basic Principles

- Validity of the credential
- ‘Official’ nature of the documents
- Level of the qualification
- Conversion of credits (quantification of education)
- Conversion of grades (quantification of performance)

Validity of the credential

- Who does it belong to?
  - Does it belong to the individual who presented it for evaluation?
- What does it represent?
  - Eg. Completion of the program, or award of a qualification?
- Can this be used in the home country for academic purposes?
  - What is required domestically?

Official Documents

- Are they issued by the appropriate institution?
  - What is the appropriate office or institution?
- Does it have any security features?
  - Stamps, seals, signatures, etc.?
- How was it issued and delivered to you?
  - Sent directly, sent electronically, copied, submitted by applicant?
- Is it authentic?
  - Does it represent an the work actually earned? Is the performance assessment accurate? Is the translation correct?

Determining the level of the qualification

- Resource libraries
  - Print, electronic, periodical, databases, conference materials
  - Country pages and sample documents
- Electronic resources
  - Published by ministries and other governmental authorities
  - Published by US non-governmental organizations
  - Published by non-US non-governmental organizations

Researching International Education Systems and Institutions

December 07, 2007 | By: Peggy Bell Hendrickson, Download pdf

UPDATED AUGUST 28, 2008

International Education Systems and Institutions is a compilation of essential resources for admissions officers, recruiters, credential evaluators, and overseas advisers.

This resource includes references for:

- International credential equivalencies and evaluations
- Identifying fraudulent documents, diploma mills, and institutions
- Region- and country-specific educational systems around the world

In addition, the guide discusses frequently asked questions, including:

- The difference between accreditation and recognition
- Definition of legal authorization to operate as a business
- Difference between unaccredited schools and diploma mills

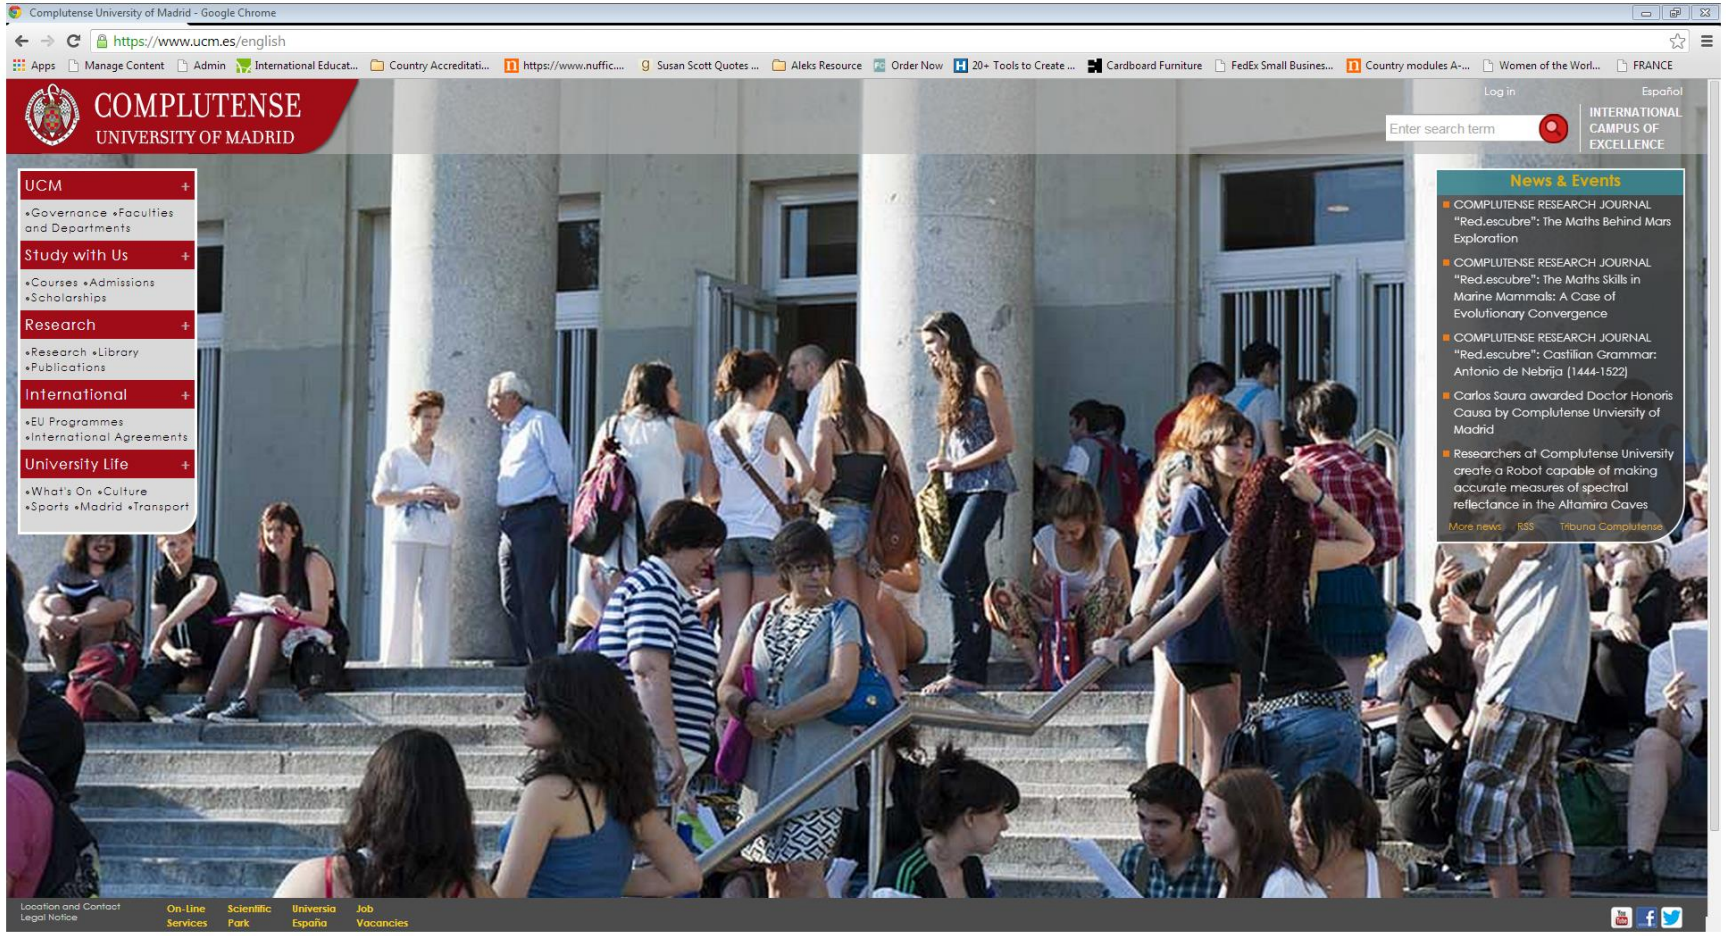
Primary Resources – Institutions and Recognition Bodies

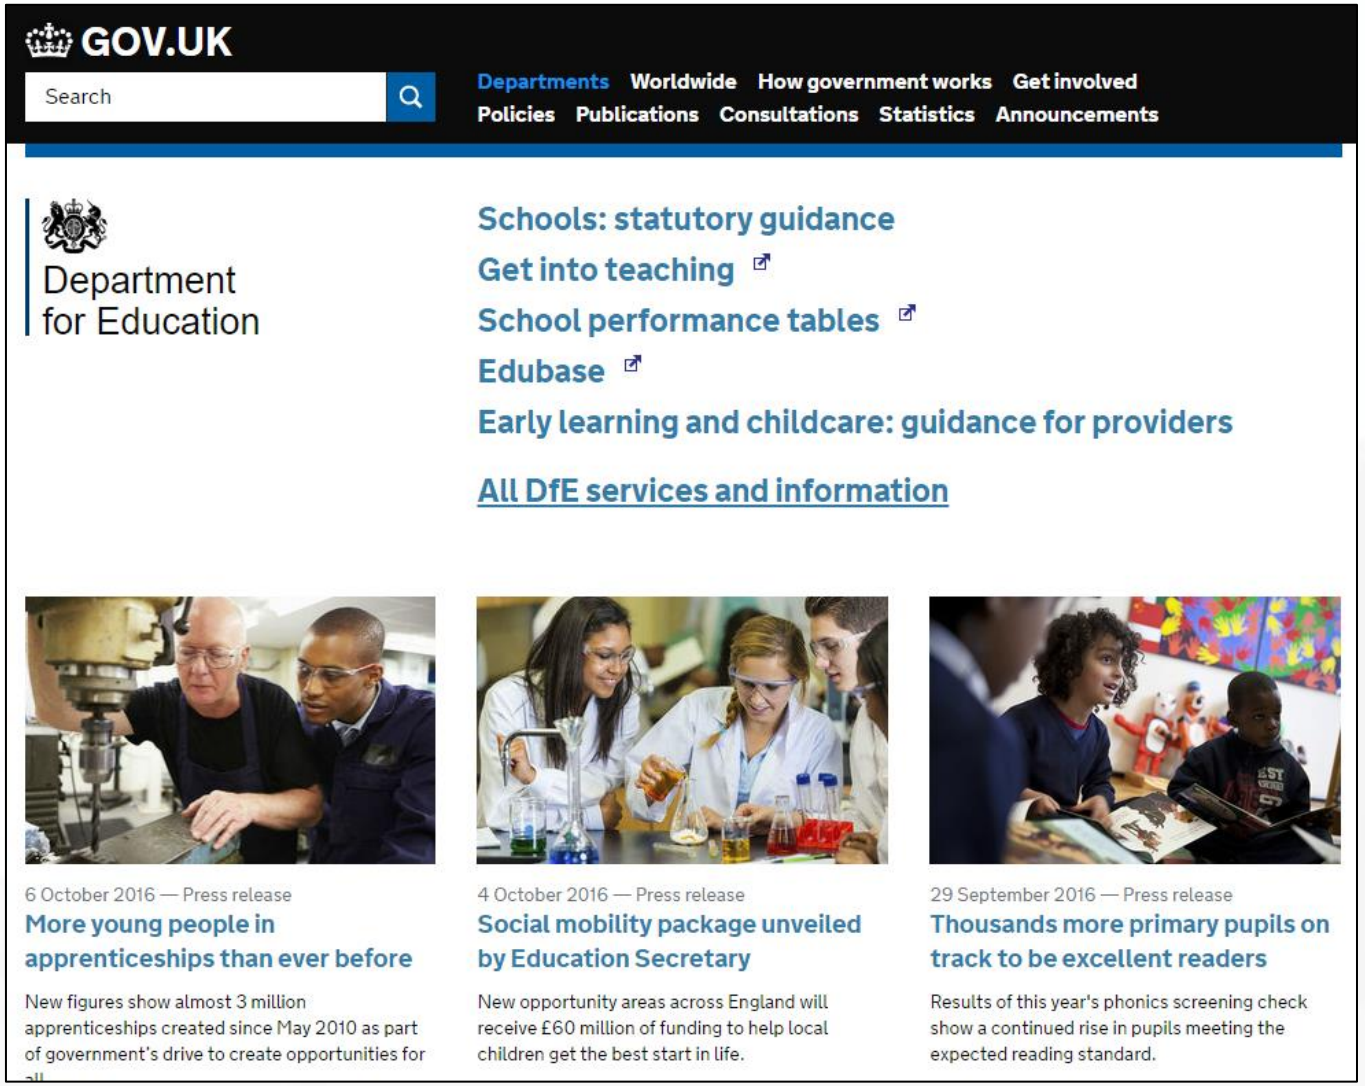
The first resource for institutional and program information is always the institution's website

http://alexu.edu.eg/index.php/en/



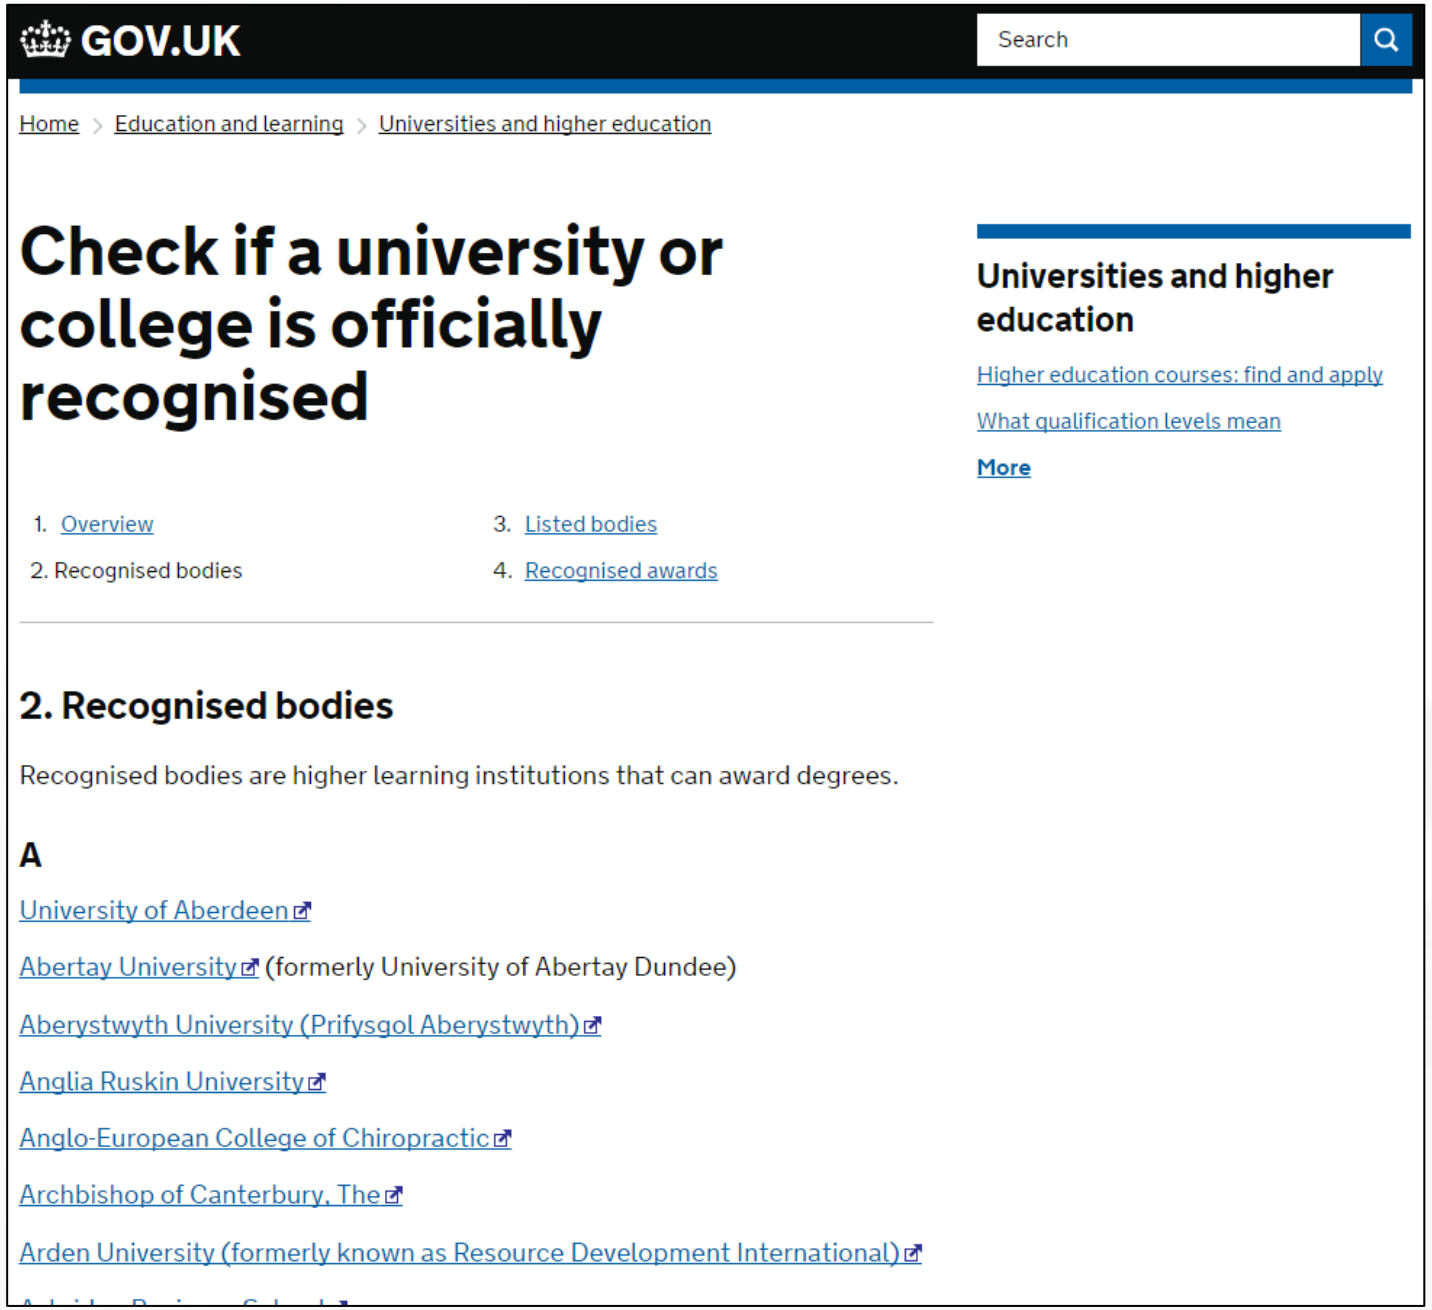
Most universities offer a website in English and the native language

https://www.ucm.es/english



Government organizations (ministries) can also offer good primary source information

http://www.education.gov.uk/



Many Ministries will have a page to verify recognition - this is the first place to look when investigating an institution's accreditation/recognition

Belgium : Overview

The Kingdom of Belgium is located in Western Europe, bordering the North Sea. It shares borders with France, Germany, Luxembourg and the Netherlands. It is about the size of Maryland and, with a population of slightly more than 10 million people, is one of the most densely populated countries of Europe. The capital of Belgium is Brussels.

On 4 October 1830, Belgium declared its independence from the Netherlands. It is a federal parliamentary democracy under a constitutional monarch. As a result of a 1993 constitutional revision, there are three levels of government (federal, regional and linguistic community) with a complex division of responsibilities. The official languages of Belgium are Dutch (60%), French (40%) and German (less than 1%).

Education in Belgium falls under the authority of the linguistic communities—Dutch, French and German. Dutch and French are the predominant languages of instruction. Thus, much of the power over educational policies and their implementation lies with the Cultural Council of the Flemish (Dutch) community and the Cultural Council of the French community.

The Belgian Constitution grants the right of education to everyone. To promote this right, education in Belgium is compulsory between the ages of 6 and 18 years of age. This compulsory education is free of charge. The communities provide pre-school (nursery school), primary school, secondary schools and technical schools. Vocational and technical education begin at the secondary education level, as does art education.

Although the educational system is divided by language, there are some shared requirements. A law passed on 20 January 1981 listed several subjects that are compulsory during primary education. And, since 1989, the core curriculum is very important at the secondary education level. Access to tertiary education is available to anyone who has completed secondary education.

Tertiary education—university education and non-university higher education—in Belgium is the responsibility of the Flemish and French communities. Each community has its own Ministry of Education. Even so, the traditional structures of tertiary education are similar, with the same degrees/diplomas being awarded by both systems. Now, however, with the introduction of the Bologna Process, this is changing.

The Flemish Parliament passed The Act on the Structure of Higher Education in the Flemish Community on 4 April 2003. This piece of legislation started the process to reform the Flemish higher education system. The old and the new structures will co-exist, with the old structure being gradually phased out by 2011. In March of 2004, the French community adopted a law that re-organizes the higher education system to make it compatible with the European Higher Education Area. The application of the new structure was scheduled to begin in September 2004, with the old structure being phased out by the academic year 2007-2008.

Country Education Profiles

Subscriber login to the Country Education Profiles

The Country Education Profiles (CEPs) is an online qualifications recognition tool designed to help organisations understand overseas higher education and postsecondary technical and vocational educational qualifications. It can be used by universities and other education providers, professional bodies, employers, international organisations and governments to help understand the level of an overseas qualification.

CEPs are not intended to be used by individuals wanting to know how their overseas qualification is recognised in Australia - see Who can assess my qualifications?

The Country Education Profiles provide authoritative information for 127 countries from Africa, Asia Pacific, Europe, Subcontinent and the Middle East and the Americas and include:

- assessment guidelines for higher education and postsecondary technical and vocational education qualifications and how they compare with Australian Qualifications Framework qualifications
- lists of institutions recognised by the relevant country authority
- education system information and national qualifications framework diagrams
- descriptions for higher education, technical and vocational education and school education sectors
- key information on grading systems, language of instruction, academic year, admission requirements, courses and qualification requirements, types of institutions, accreditation and quality assurance
- key quality indicators
- practical guidance on understanding qualification documents
- user-friendly navigation.

To sample content, see the Kyrgyzstan Country Education Profile or the Australia Country Education Profile.

Conversion of Grades

- Most common grading system in the US is the A-F scale
- Overall performance is represented in the form of a GPA
- GPA = a mathematical average of all course results factored by the designated weighting of each course
  - Different than a major subjects GPA, overall grade, CGPA, qualification result, etc.
- Online tools can be immensely helpful

Conversion of Grades – Grading Scales

- Grade conversion scales differ
- Grades are interpretive and qualitative
- Scales can be tailored to suit an institutional purpose – consider the source.
- Considerations:
  - Word descriptors
  - Classifications
  - Highest grade possible, and minimum pass

Grade Conversion Resources

- Internal country pages
  - Table of Contents and sample can be found: http://www.nafsa.org/Find_Resources/Supporting_International_Students_And_Scholars/Network_Resources/International_Enrollment_Management/Table_of_Contents_Template_for_Credential_Evaluation_Manual/

How is GPA calculated?

1) First, the grades are converted to the U.S. equivalent for countries other than the U.S.

Chinese Grade	U.S. Grade
90	A
85	A-
80	B

2) The GPA converter converts each U.S. grade equivalent to points using the following scale:

U.S. Grade	Points
A+	4.0
A	4.0
A-	3.7

U.S. Grade	Points
B+	3.3
B	3.0
B-	2.7

U.S. Grade	Points
C+	2.3
C	2.0
C-	1.7

U.S. Grade	Points
D+	1.3
D	1.0
D-	0.7

U.S. Grade	Points
F	0.0

3) The points for each class are multiplied by the number of credits or hours for that class, added together, and divided by the total number of credits or hours.

Credits	U.S. Grade	Points
3	A	4.0
3	A-	3.7
2	B	3.0

	Total Points
3 x 4.0 =	12.0
3 x 3.7 =	11.1
2 x 3.0 =	6.0

12.0 + 11.1 + 6.0 =	29.1
divide by
3 + 3 + 2 =	8
Cumulative GPA =	3.64

Bulgaria

The Bulgarian Ministry of Education, Youth, and Science maintains a register of primary, secondary, and vocational education credentials (Регистърът на Дипломи и свидетелства за завършено основно и средно образование и придобита степен на професионална квалификация) awarded to Bulgarian students after January 2007.

The initial verification option confirms which credential a student has earned. To use this option, the student's national identification number (i.e. ЕГН / ЛНЧ, a 10-digit number listed on all official documentation) must be available.

The additional verification option provides access to student's credential in full (e.g. a complete listing of subjects and grades listed on the diploma, and a digital copy of the diploma). To use this option, the student's diploma number must be available.

Nepali Date Converter

Nepali Date Converter converts Bikram sambat Nepali date to English date and vice versa. It is a date converter between Bikram sambat B.S and Gregorian calendar (Anno Domini)(A.D). Current version of nepali date converter is v5.6. Now Bikram Sambat Nepali Date Converter (Version 5.6) can convert dates from 1970B.S - 2100B.S and from English Date 1913A.D - 2043A.D. Nepali Date Converter is functioning almost around 6 years from version 1 to 5.6, in this time several fixes and updates are made to make results accurate.
